

Master diploma thesis „Czech Literary Magazines of the First Half of 1990s Illustrated on Periodicals Literární noviny and Tvar“ intends to map the development and transformation of two literary magazines - Literární noviny a Tvar - and to give a complex description of those periodicals. It presents the development of literary magazines in our country since 1960s, deals with history, ideological focus, formal analysis and analysis of content of Literární noviny and Tvar including their predecessors. It sets those selected journals into the socio-cultural context of the time. The outcome is a comprehensive picture of development of those magazines until middle 1990s.